

THE HYRA X

Its name is the Hydra. It has red tentacles, sharp green fangs, four tusks and a little beak. It is very tall and large. It lives in the Atlantic ocean, along the coast of Brazil. It is piscivorous because it only eats fish. It has many capacities: it can paralyse its prey and shrink or become bigger. It is heavier than the Munchu and more dangerous than the Demiguise. It is not dangerous because it is very nice.
