

THE NARDYLUPA XX

The Nardylupa has big purple tentacles on its back, sharp fangs, long claws on its paws, light blue spots on its body and a hump on its head.

It is a tiny beast.

It lives in burrows in California.

It is piscivorous because it eats fish.

The Nardylupa can stay under water and read people's minds.

It is quite dangerous with its enemies.

It is more beautiful than the Demiguise but it is less aggressive than the Nundu.
