

THE FISHEARTH XX

The name of this magical creature is the Fishearth. It has fins on its back and another one on its head. It carries its babies in a pouch on which there are a lot of purple spots. It lives in burrows, in America, where it can eat rabbits because it likes to chase them away. It can cure diseases, it is really helpful sometimes. Its skin can change color depending on its emotions. It is less aggressive than the Thunderbird. It is not dangerous but really protective.

THE FISH EARTH

