

THE PTERANOBIRD XXXX

The Pteranobird lives in North Africa in the desert. It looks like an eagle. This giant bird has four red wings and a long purple tail. Its wings can become invisible. Its wings are so powerful that they can create a storm. With its long snout it spits fire. It can see at night because it has huge golden eyes like an owl. It is piscivorous because it eats fish and it catches fishes under water with its talons. The Pteranobird is taller than the Accromantula and more dangerous than the Munklap.
