

A dark cave

By Emma Justine Noémie and Emma

Once upon a time, a poor family bred a pig in their cottage. In this poor family, there was a boy, a girl and an old man. Behind their farm, there was a flowery wood.

One day, the pig went in the wood and got lost. A moment later, it started to rain so the pig went to shelter in a cave.

In the evening, the children wanted to feed the pig but he wasn't there anymore. They were very worried and started to look for it. They finally took a bag, a map and went to the wood which was behind their farm. Suddenly, they heard the pig shouting so they ran and arrived in front of a dark cave. The pig was there in an ogre's mouth. The children were so scared but the boy had a good idea. He said to his sister:

« Hey sister! I have a good idea. Let's give him poisoned beans! »

« Yes, it's a really good idea but where can we find beans? »

« I saw some of them on the path. Go and get them. I watch the ogre. »

Once they had the beans, they put poison on them and attracted the ogre to give him the poisoned beans. The ogre took the beans and ate them all. A moment later, he fainted and the pig was saved.

They went back to their farm and lived happily ever after.

The end.
