

A real princess

By Esteban Adrien Sevan and Clément

Once upon a time, there was a prince who looked for a real princess.

But he didn't find one so he was very sad and he didn't go out of his castle.

One day, he listened to the advertisement of a princess who looked for a real prince. She was waiting for the prince in her big castle.

So the prince decided to go out and find the princess. When he arrived he saw a huge dragon in front of the castle so he fought the dragon and won.

The princess immediately fell in love with the prince. She wanted to live with him. They lived happily ever after and had a lot of children.

The end.
