By Andréa and Pierre

Once upon a time, there was a king who wanted to have the Master Sword. So, he asked the knight if he wanted to go to the cave to get it. He gave him a map and an armor which was in silver to go the cave. The knight was prepared for this but he didn't know if he could go to the cave. He was terrified, scared and very excited.

When he arrived to the cave, he discovered a a dragon. It was big, mighty and strong. It wanted to kill the poor boy with his small sword. But the knight also wanted to kill the dragon because he needed the Master Sword. He was terrified but he attacked it. He jumped and pulled his small sword into the dragon's body. The dragon was killed and died five minutes later. He tore the dragon's head and went to get the Master Sword.

When he took the Master Sword, he got some power. Indeed, the Master Sword was the most epic sword in the universe. He ran outside the cave but he fell in big hole. But the Master Sword protected him and he wasn't hurt.

He went to the castle and asked the king.

« Can I keep the sword ? »

« - yes, you can. Because you are very brave. Congratulations! »

So, the knight took the sword and went far far away, in other countries. He was very happy and proud of him. He had a sword which had all the powers.
