

The poor girl and the dragon

By Selene—Emma

Once upon a time, a poor girl lived in the woods because her parents had abandoned her. She had a pig. She knew that, in the woods, there was a cave with dragon.

On a stormy night, the dragon woke up. He left his cave because he was hungry and angry. He wanted to find food and he found the poor girl with her pig.

The terrifying dragon attacked the pig but the poor girl went in the middle and got hurt. The dragon became really angry. So he decided to eat the girl. The poor girl and the cute pig started to run. They arrived near a pond where the most beautiful unicorn in the universe lived. The unicorn felt that the poor girl and the pig were in danger so she called a fairy. It was a very powerful fairy with a magical wand.

With wand, the fairy made a prince appear. The prince fought the dragon and saved the poor girl. He immediately fell in love with her. He decided to give her a ring and to marry her. They lived happily ever after and had two children.

The end.
