

In the future, cities will change, it has already begun. There are negative points of this evolution like segregation, overpopulation issues, which trigger pollution, poverty and unemployment...

Air pollution is caused by carbon dioxide emissions produced by cars (traffic jams make the situation even worse!). If nothing is done, cities will become impossible to live in and unbreathable.